

Coding and robotics material for school

Thabo Mofutsanyana District Department of Education Senior IT Specialist responsible for coding and robotics, Nkosana Kheswa told EFS Issue that Nelson Mandela University of Technology donated coding and robotics materials to Nexus Primary School in Tshiame C, Harrismith on Wednesday, 23 March.

The motive behind the donation was to educate learners about science innovation from an early age. Kheswa indicated that we are moving into a paperless world due to technology. According to the award-winning educator, science is an important subject and learners should be encouraged to take this subject.

He said with coding and robotics, learners will be equipped for 4th Industrial Revolution living. Through coding and robotics they are being taught to command and instruct computers or machines to perform a specific task.

According to Kheswa, the school received laptops, coding and robotics equipment and software apparatus that can develop games or toys.

MALUTI A-PHOFUNG MUNICIPALITY

NOTICE No. 40/2021

ESTABLISHMENT OF WARD COMMITTEES

Section 16 of the Local Government: Municipal Systems Act, No. 32 of 2000 as amended (Systems Act), requires that a municipality must develop a culture of municipal governance that complements formal representative government with a system of participatory governance, and must encourage, and create conditions for, the local community to participate in the affairs of the municipality. Section 17 of the Systems Act states that the participation by the local community in the affairs of the municipality must take place through political structures for participation. Section 73 of the Local Government: Municipal Structures Act, No. 117 of 1998 as amended requires that the municipality must establish ward committees as a means of participatory democracy.

Ward Committees provide communities with a platform for participating in planning, monitoring and budgeting to address community needs. This enhances communication and involvement with the communities as a whole. To this effect, dates for the establishment of the ward committees are as follows and communities of respective wards are requested to play an active part in the election of ward committees; Ward Committee Establishment Meetings' Schedule.

For more information please contact Office of the Speaker, Phuthaditjhaba Municipal Offices, Phuthaditjhaba at 058 718 3700/3795
